

Climate Change Articles

Transcripts and photographs from television segments produced by KTUU and Alaska Conservation Solutions in November, 2008:

Cutting your carbon footprint, Part 1

Cutting your carbon footprint, Part 2

Analytical papers prepared for the Alaska State Legislature by Alaska Conservation Solutions in July, 2008:

- If Alaska is "ground zero" for global warming, why are this summer's temperatures so chilly?
- The Energy Relief Savings and Efficiency Plan (ERSEP), or A Better Approach to Addressing Alaska's Energy Needs in the 2008 Special Session
- Ten Reasons Why the $800 Million Alaska Resource Rebate Payment (ARRP) is Not in Alaska's Best Interest
- Six Reasons Not to Suspend the Motor Fuel Tax

Deborah Williams, founder of Alaska Conservation Solutions, has published multiple articles, letters to the editor, and op eds about global warming in Alaska. Here is just a sampling:

- Compass Piece on Renewable Energy, March 25, 2008
- Compass Piece on Polar Bears
- Conservationist Sounds Alarm on Global Warming

An Interview with Deborah Williams

(Published in the Anchorage Daily News)

- Global Warming and Tobacco: Deja Vu

(Published in the Anchorage Daily News)

- The Evidence in Alaska 2004-2008

- Our Greatest Threat: The Heat War

(Published in the Aspen newspaper)

- Feeling the Heat: Global Warming in Alaska

(Published in Indian Country News)

- Letter to the Editor

(Published in Voice of the Times)

- Santa Claus is not happy

(Published in the Anchorage Press)